QUID

 NATURTEX

Naturtex's innovative technological advancements have enabled to create a collection of exceptionally resilient outdoor rugs. Inspired by the intricate handwoven techniques of natural fibers that have always captivated them, the Quid rug series exudes a traditional and refined charm with a distinct character.

Characterized by the modernity of the materials utilized, these rugs not only present a sophisticated appearance but also ensure effortless hygienic maintenance in both private and public spaces.

The name 'Quid' is chosen as one of the potential translations of the word 'knot,' representing a central and essential facet of Naturtex's design philosophy.

Quid stands out as a versatile collection thoughtfully designed to seamlessly enhance both outdoor and indoor environments. The range includes options with curved or rectangular finishes, striking a harmonious balance between tradition and modernity.
